Are you one of the most ambitious and innovative leaders in your country? Do you want to learn more about sustainable business practices and contribute to sustainable development in your country? Join the Swedish Institute Management Programme (SIMP) Asia to lead change through responsible leadership and sustainable business practices.

What?

SIMP offers you proven tools and knowledge from experts to put sustainability at the heart of your strategy and take your leadership to the next level. The programme is based on Sweden's prominent position in innovation and sustainable business – and its connection to the global economy. SIMP will give you:

- In-depth knowledge and skills about sustainable business practices.
- Capacity and knowledge to lead change and promote sustainable business practices in your own organisation.
- Customised expert coaching based on your and your organisation's needs.
- Access to relevant representatives from the public and private sector in your region and in Sweden to exchange views, knowledge and experiences.

- A unique opportunity of close collaboration and exchange with colleagues at your own level from other countries.

Who?

You are welcome to submit your application if you:

- Have a leading position in a private company or an organisation that promotes business development.
- Have the potential to drive the implementation of a sustainability strategy in your company or organisation.
- Have a proficient command of written and spoken English.
- Are a citizen and resident of China, India, Indonesia, Philippines, Thailand or Vietnam.

When and where?

The programme, spread over several months, contains highly interactive online sessions and individual work. SIMP is free of admission and SI covers training and content.
